Touch Panel controller

The user interface can coexist with Interact Sports Scene management software. When you switch scenes using the Touch Panel, it will also be reflected on your dashboard – so you can always use the interface of your preference. What's more, each device shows up to date scene status.

Other professional lighting consoles

Can be used to trigger advanced content, including entertainment displays. As these consoles operate differently to Interact Sports software or the Touch Panel Controller, you can only use one at a time. This means that control can be given to external consoles and can be taken back via our software.
